Summary & Other Accomplishments

Fatima Maldoredo is a Venezuelan pianist. She started her musical studies at the age of 7, in the Juan Manuel Olivares Music Conservatory. She completed the Music Theory and Technical skills program at the academy and took additional music training in solfege, music history, choral practice, and composition. Throughout her career, she played in distinguished theaters in Venezuela. She performed well-known musical pieces from composers such as Mozart, Beethoven, Schumann, Tchaikovsky, Clementi, and Bach.

Fatima started her teaching career in 2014. She has taught students from the very young age of 4 years old. She is currently furthering her music studies at the University of Calgary. Her goal is to serve as an inspiration for young pianists and ultimately hopes to enrich the world through music.
